DIRECTORS OF HOSPITAL ASK CONSULTANT TO CONDUCT SURVEY

At their meeting Friday evening, directors of the Annie M. Warner hospital invited John N. Hatfield, one of the nation's most prominent hospital administrators and consultants, to come to Gettysburg to make personal examination of the hospital and to recommend the most practical course to pursue to meet present needs for expansion with due allowance for future requirements.

Mr. Hatfield is administrator of the Pennsylvania Hospital, Philadelphia, a position he has held for 26 years. He is a past president of the Pennsylvania Hospital association, the American Hospital association and is one of the leading figures in the American Association of Hospital Consultants. He is considered one of the nation's top men in hospital management and hospital planning.

The problem that has long confronted the Warner hospital directors is twofold. First, the hospital has completely outgrown its facilities in the X-ray, pediatrics, dispensary and surgical departments. In addition children's ward facilities are inadequate and the hospital has no isolation facilities whatever.

Need Expansion Now
The second problem concerns future growth but assumes immediate importance because the first problem must be solved with the second or the future requirements of the hospital in mind.

Generally speaking, new construction should be undertaken now to provide adequate x-ray, dispensary, pediatric and surgery facilities. The first thing to be determined is the location of such a new structure in order that it may efficiently serve the present hospital and at the same time be in the right place to serve new and additional patient facilities that will be needed in the future.

Need Bath Facilities
One of the questions is how the old building fits into the future of the hospital.

Although it is maintained in excellent condition and is structurally sound, obsolescence will eventually overtake the old building as a patient facility for the reason that the rooms are without bath and there are inadequate bath facilities on the floors. To correct this and to prevent the building from becoming obsolete as a patient facility, will involve major construction, the cost of which will be out of proportion to the results attained. In addition adding bath facilities to the extent they are needed will reduce patient facilities instead of adding to meet the normal increase that is certain to be needed in the future.

Informal studies that have been made do not preclude the possibility that new patient facilities should be constructed now so that the old building can be used entirely for administrative, X-ray, dispensary, pediatric, surgical and clinical services.

Face Important Issues
The element of uncertainty in this possibility is that the service facilities may be too far off center, so to speak, or that the patient facilities may be too far flung to permit efficient and economical operation of the hospital.

"These are the questions that must be solved and in seeking the

NEW HENRY J AUTOS ARE ON DISPLAY HERE

The 1952 Corsairs, the new Henry J, were shown Friday for the first time in Gettysburg at the Unger Motor company, Steinwehr avenue. They can be seen today, Sunday and Monday.

Designated the Corsair and Corsair DeLuxe, the new sedans introduce the first major appearance and mechanical changes in the low-priced Henry J since its introduction in September, 1950. The Henry J is said to be the lowest priced of any full-size American sedan.

Other Corsair Features
In addition to new front and rear styling, the 1952 models incorporate mechanical changes which enhance the "penny-a-mile" fuel economy and high horsepower-to-weight ratings of both the high-compression 68-h.p. four and 80-h.p. six-cylinder engines.

The Corsairs are the second 1952

OFFER PRAYERS IN 6 TONGUES HERE ON FRIDAY

Prayers were offered in six languages at the Gettysburg World Day of Prayer service which was held Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the local Methodist church.

In addition to the prayers uttered in English, five Gettysburg college students who have lived or were born abroad recited prayers in foreign tongues.

The church was well filled for the service at which Mrs. Amos Meyers, wife of the York Springs Methodist pastor, was the principal speaker. Mrs. Meyers is a native of Hawaii and her theme was "Christ Our Hope."

Americans Too Busy
Emphasizing the need for simplicity of faith and for humility on the part of Christians, Mrs. Meyers said: "You can attain no higher place in life than when you are on your knees before God."

She urged the importance of a period of daily meditation and ventured the opinion that Americans often are too busy with the demands of everyday life to appreciate their God-given blessings.

Taking part in the service were Mrs. Herbert H. Schmidt, president of the Gettysburg Council of Church Women; Mrs. Forrest Craver, chair-

AUTO UPSETS IN CREEK ON FRIDAY

Two members of the army's military police, en route Friday night from Camp Pickett, Va., to Carlisle, narrowly escaped serious injury at 11 p.m. when their car struck a bridge abutment on Route 34 a mile south of Biglerville and rolled over into Conewago creek.

State police said the car was driven by Sgt. Benjamin Gouch, 24, and that Gouch told them he was blinded by the lights of another automobile. Sgt. James Toms, 29, of Carlisle, riding with Gouch, suffered brush burns of the face.

The automobile landed on its top in the creek, police said. It was demolished, with loss estimated at $1,500.

EAGLES LAUDED FOR SERVICE TO COUNTY GUESTS

Paying an official visit to Gettysburg Aerie No. 1562, Fraternal Order of Eagles, Steven V. Thomas, McKeesport, state president of the order, Friday night told members that "the finest thing I have seen here is that plot of ground in Evergreen cemetery purchased by your aerie to insure that no Adams county resident will ever rest in a pauper's grave."

President Thomas arrived in Gettysburg early Friday afternoon and was taken on a tour of the battlefield by Secretary Horace Bender, John W. German, publicity representative of the lodge, and Charles Haines, battlefield guide and a member of the aerie.

He was guest of honor at a dinner at Banktr's restaurant at 6:30 o'clock, attended by officers and directors of the lodge, and at 8 o'clock spoke at the Eagles home on Chambersburg street. He was introduced by John W. Heller, Jr., of York, past grand worthy president of the Eagles. Henry Herring, past president of the local lodge, presided.

Mr. Thomas complimented the officers of the Gettysburg aerie on their lodge home and their cooperative spirit. "One thing I have noted here," he said, "is the fine spirit that prevails among the officers and members. Today we are living in trying times, and we need fraternalism more than ever before." He cited briefly in his closing remarks the 54-year history of the Eagles, and declared that "one of the grand aerie's first accomplishments was the establishment of the Eagles memorial fund for children of Eagles killed in World War II."

During the afternoon President Thomas was greeted at the aerie home by H. Earl Pitzer, Aspers, a member of the aerie, who is state president of the Elks. Mr. Thomas also visited James B. Aumen, one of the organizers of Gettysburg aerie, and its secretary for many years, and state president in 1934-35.

Visiting Eagles were present from York and other adjacent cities. Refreshments were served after the meeting.

Russia Is Big Barrier To Early Armistice In Korea; Allies Want Sick Prisoners

Seoul, March 1 (AP)—United Nations tanks today rumbled into action on the muddy Korean warfront for the second straight day.

A tank-infantry raiding unit, backed up by intense artillery fire, hammered Red targets south of Pyongyang on the central front for more than an hour at dawn Saturday.

Chinese artillery and mortar fire damaged two of the tanks. The tanks were pulled back to Allied lines.

That brought to 12 the number of Allied tanks destroyed or damaged Friday and Saturday.

Allied fighter bombers balanced off part of this loss Saturday afternoon. The Mustangs and Marine Corsairs caught a camouflaged Red tank convoy north of Pyongyang and destroyed three and badly damaged six.

30 Minute Attack
Pyongyang is the apex of the "iron triangle," once a Communist troop staging area.

U.N. infantrymen fought off a company of charging Chinese in darkness near Choron on the central front in the small hours Saturday.

Reds in the same area destroyed or damaged four Allied tanks on Friday.

The Chinese attacked one minute after midnight, a frontline officer said, after they had poured in machinegun bullets and mortar rounds for more than three hours before midnight.

The midnight attack lasted only 30 minutes, the officer said.

RETIRES FROM PARK SERVICE

John S. Williams, 57, of 130 Breckenridge street, retired Friday after nearly 37 years as an employee of the Gettysburg National Military Park.

In ceremonies in the park department office in the post office building attended by other employees of the department, Dr. J. Walter Coleman, superintendent, presented a certificate of commendable service to Mr. Williams and a lifetime pass to all national park areas.

Mr. Williams entered the employ of the park service as a laborer, in 1915, when it was under the control of the war department. He entered the army in October, 1917, and was discharged in March 1919. He returned to the park service, and in 1920 was named hostler's assistant, a position he held until 1927 when he was re-classified as a laborer.

Mr. Williams' plans for the future are indefinite.

HEART DRIVE TO ATTAIN GOAL

"There is every indication the 1952 Heart Drive will go over the top."

This was the prediction of C. A. Wills, president, and Rev. Charles E. Held, vice president and campaign director of the Adams County Heart association, at the close of the drive Friday evening.

Rev. Held said the plastic hearts will remain in business places throughout the county over the week-end but will be collected next week so as not to intrude on the important campaign for funds by the Adams County Red Cross.

"We have approximately $1,500 on hand and the collections from the

Winter Returns With 5-inch Snowfall; Drifting Reported

Close on the heels of a snow-less February, the first here in 14 years, winter closed its grip on Adams county once more with a snow fall that had mounted to more than five inches by mid-morning.

March came "in like a lion" with snow carried on stiff northwesterly winds that caused rapid drifting of the snow that began falling shortly after midnight. The first snow melted and placed an icy sheath under the snow that piled up rapidly during the early morning hours.

The state Highway department workmen, caught unexpectedly with equipment lacking chains and plows, had a few plows on the main roads by dawn but put all the snow removal equipment into use as rapidly as possible. The snow plows have had no important work to do since December's heavy snows. Only two inches fell here in January.

Counting today's fall as five inches, this winter's snowfall total now stands at 25.5 inches which puts it ahead of any winter since 1945-46 when there was a 26-inch fall. Normal here is over 30 inches on the basis of 50-year records.

The Associated Press reported the snowstorm was general across the state, slowing travel on the highways and delaying trains. The weatherman said the storm was caused by a low pressure area from the southwest. Light snowfall was expected to continue into this afternoon.

February in Gettysburg was unusually warm and a half inch short on rain with no snow. Traces of snow were listed on several days but no measurable amounts fell. The rainfall total was 2.19 inches while normal for the month is 2.68 inches.

The average daily temperature was 36.3 degrees, 4.8 degrees above normal. The temperature range for the month was from 17 above zero to a high of 55 degrees attained on February 1 and 2. Measurable amounts of rain fell on only four days. A wide variety of weather last month included a thundershower, sleet and high winds.

Munsan, Korea, Mar. 1 (AP)—Communist truce negotiators said today they would "eternally reject" efforts to keep Russia off a neutral supervisory commission and a U.N. delegate acknowledged that there seems to be "no prospect" of an early Korean armistice.

Rear Adm. R. E. Libby told the Reds it was apparent there would be no early truce and called for an immediate exchange of all sick and wounded prisoners.

The Communists promptly rejected Libby's request and accused the U.N. of "deliberately serving notice" that they planned to delay the armistice negotiations.

Reds Want Russia

The Red notice that they will stand by their nomination of Russia as a neutral inspector came only a day after U.N. negotiators announced "final and irrevocable" rejection of the Soviet Union.

North Korean Col. Chang Chun San said bluntly: "I hereby declare our side will eternally reject your opposition (to Russia) until you withdraw your unreasonable objections."

Chang said the two-week deadlock over Russia could be broken only if the U.N. accepted one of two alternatives, both of which would include Soviet representatives on neutral teams which would inspect behind the lines during a truce.

The first, he said, was for both sides to agree to all neutral nations nominated. The second would be for each side to select its representatives without agreement on the part of the other side.

"Apart from these two, there will be no other solution in resolving this question," Chang said.

Col. Don Darrow quickly reminded Chang that "your side doesn't demand anything from our side."

Admiral Libby said the subcommittee on prisoner exchange "accomplished nothing."

"We pointed out that there seemed to be no prospect for an early agreement," he told newsmen, "so we formally proposed immediate exchange of sick and wounded prisoners."

MORE RED CROSS SOLICITORS ARE TO SERVE HERE

Approximately 525 volunteers throughout the county today began door-to-door collections to raise $13,000 for the Adams county Red Cross.

John C. Stahle, chairman of the annual Red Cross fund drive, urged the solicitors to make every effort to visit the persons on their lists within two weeks, with the hope that the drive can end by the middle of March.

At the same time he impressed upon the canvassers the necessity of reaching the goal set for the county this year. "The 1952 drive for funds has as its quota the barest minimum needed to continue to provide all the services which the Red Cross has been offering. The budget committee slashed to the bone all requests from various divisions of the county Red Cross, and then pared some more to bring the total down to the $13,000 level."

No Reserve Funds

"Success for the local drive is necessary for us to meet the needs of the national Red Cross. This year marks the first time since before World War II that the national Red Cross has not entered its annual drive without reserve funds. It must raise every cent of the $85,000,000 needed nationally if the Red Cross is to carry on for another year in the light of the rapidly expanding needs for Red Cross services brought about by the Korean situation and the world-wide aspects of our armed forces."

Stahle today listed additional solicitors in Gettysburg:

More Solicitors
Gettysburg Zone 1, Mrs. George Forney, chairman; Mrs. Luther Sachs, Hillcrest place; Mrs. Charles Ogden, east side of Baltimore street from Wade avenue to the end; Mrs. Morris Steinhorn, east side of Baltimore street from Wade avenue to High street; Mrs. Frederick Tilberg.

14 GET LICENSES

Fourteen marriage licenses were issued by the office of the county clerk of courts during February, bringing to 25 the number of permits to wed granted so far this year. The number is the same as that for the first two months of 1951, when 13 were granted in February and 12 in January.

INTERSTATE TOLL CHARGES ARE INCREASED

New rates on interstate long distance telephone calls became effective here today, according to the United Telephone company. The rate changes provide for five-cent increases on most interstate station-to-station calls up to 150 miles and some increases up to ten cents on person-to-person calls, the telephone company said.

The old and new rates on station-to-station calls to nearby Maryland towns are:

Town	Old Rate	New Rate
Emmitsburg	10 cents	15 cents
Taneytown	15	20
Westminster	20	25
Thurmont	20	25
Frederick	30	35
Hagerstown	25	30

The person-to-person rates are:

Town	Old Rate	New Rate
Emmitsburg	20	30
Taneytown	25	35
Westminster	30	40
Thurmont	30	35
Frederick	40	50
Hagerstown	35	45

No changes are made in the telephone rates to Baltimore, but the station-to-station rate to Washington increased today from 40 to 45 cents, and the person-to-person calls from 55 to 65 cents. Baltimore calls remain the same at 40 cents for station to station and 55 cents for person-to-person.

In some instances, decreases up to ten cents on station-to-station calls of more than 582 miles became effective today.

The initial period was reduced from five to four minutes on interstate calls up to 24 miles and from five to three minutes on interstate calls in the 25 to 30-miles range.

hearts, schools and receipt of checks that we have been promised makes it reasonably sure that we will meet our $2,500 quota," Rev. Hold stated.

The campaign director pointed out that several organization contributions will not be received until next month due to meeting dates and the temporary absence of officers.

To Report Later

"Furthermore," he said, "there are a number of people who are away who always contribute and we are sure this year will be no exception."

The campaign director said it will be late in the month before a final report can be made.

"Immediately thereafter we will hold a meeting of the directors of the association and the activities committee and it will be possible at an early date to announce the program for the year for the alleviation of cardiac cases in Adams county."

President Willis expressed his appreciation to the people of Adams county for their interest and support of the drive this year.

"The response has been reassuring. We are impressed with the work of the heart association and we are gratified with the commendation that has been expressed over the accomplishments that have been made possible only by the hearty support given our drive each year," he said.

Charge Driver With Drunken Driving

George I. Edelen, Springfield, Ky., arrested at 5:20 o'clock Friday afternoon by state police of the Gettysburg substation on a charge of driving while under the influence of intoxicants, was held for court this morning by Justice of the Peace John H. Baschore. He furnished $1,000 bail.

State police said Edelen ran his automobile off the highway on the Biglerville road into a field. He was committed to the Adams county jail over night.

Hanover, Chambersburg To Meet Here Monday For Title

Hanover and Chambersburg will clash on the Gettysburg college floor Monday evening at 8 o'clock to decide the second half championship of the South Penn league and a sell-out crowd is assured.

As anticipated, Chambersburg laced Shippensburg 71-44 Friday night at Shippensburg in a postponed affair to deadlock the Trojans with the Nighthawks.

In the event that Hanover triumphs Monday, a second game would be required for the league title, Chambersburg having previously clinched the first half title. There is a possibility that a second game may also be staged on the college floor, probably March 7. A win for Chambersburg Monday would give the Trojans their ninth straight league championship.

During the past season Hanover and Chambersburg split even in their two games. Chambersburg scored a 69-50 decision at Hanover in the first half while the Nighthawks gained a 61-59 verdict at Chambersburg in the second half.

It is entirely possible that both teams will use the zone style of defense, Chambersburg having employed that style of play more and more recently. Hanover has regularly used the zone.

All tickets allotted locally for Monday's game were sold out on Thursday and it is reported that sellouts took place in the home towns of the competing teams.

Hanover fans will occupy the east section of the gym with Trojan followers on the opposite side.

George Forney, high school athletic director, is in charge of the game.

Doors will open at 8 o'clock.

DELONE LOSES FINAL CONTEST

Hanover high's cagers tuned up for their second half South Penn title game with Chambersburg on the Gettysburg college floor Monday evening by trouncing Delone 62-48 Friday night on the Squires floor.

The Nighthawks soared to a 33-18 lead at the end of the first half to lead by a safe margin all the way. Bob Reese, center, pumped 24 points through the hoops for the winners.

Mumma and P. Smith tallied 18 and 15 points, respectively, for Delone.

The defeat marked the 10th for the Squires who were concluding a 22-game schedule.

Hanover's Jayvees won the preliminary game 28-22.

Carbon Copy Dresses Displeases Women

Vienna, Mar. 1 (AP)—Hungarian women and girls are displeased with the mass production of scarlet red dresses for them, the Budapest newspaper Villagoosag reports.

At a recent conference in Budapest, dealing with deficiencies of ready-made clothes, the quality as well as the pattern of women's wear was the subject of severe criticism, the paper said.

The women not only objected to the mass production of scarlet dresses, they also complained that the patterns were alike, leaving them no freedom of choice.

Baseball Training Camp Briefs

Sarasota, Fla., March 1 (AP)—Today is more than the official starting point of the training season to Boston Red Sox General Manager Joe Cronin—he's going to talk turkey with his three unsigned stars, Ted Williams, Billy Goodman and Johnny Pesky.

Of the trio, the slugging Ted Williams probably will be the easiest to sign. With Ted scheduled for his physical examination to decide whether he'll go on active duty as a marine pilot, the main question will be the salary arrangements for a possible part season's work. Utilityman Goodman and infielder Pesky are apt to be a bit harder to deal with, since both want pay hikes.

Williams will be checked by physicians April 2 at the Quantum Naval Air Station near Boston and if he passes will start his tour of duty May 2 at Willow Grove Naval Air Station near Philadelphia.

Bradenton, Fla., March 1 (AP)—Veteran catcher Walter Cooper of the Boston Braves was regarded today as a definite "holdout" along with third baseman Bob Elliott.

General Manager John Quinn talked by telephone Thursday night with Cooper who is at his home in Buckner, Mo. The Tribe official's only comment was that there was "nothing to report."

San Bernardino, Calif., March 1 (AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates coaching staff went into a huddle today to determine what members of the rookie camp will be retained to work out with the Buc regulars.

General Manager Branch Rickey, aware the Buc pitching staff is weak, indicated most of the players who will be permitted to stay on will be hurlers. There is some doubt whether pitcher Murry Dickson will be in uniform when the regular training season opens Monday.

Dickson was tabbed a holdout last night by Rickey who said the club has made its final offer to the little righthander.

West Palm Beach, Fla., March 1 (AP)—The Philadelphia Athletics today awaited the first fielding drill of the training season after a week of practice limited to pitchers and catchers.

Connie Mack arrived in camp yesterday and the sight of an infielder named Keil probably stirred fond memories for the A's president. The infielder is Everett (Skeeter) Keil, brother of George Keil of the Detroit Tigers who broke in with the A's in 1943.

Clearwater, Fla., March 1 (AP)—Shortstop Gran Hamner has signed a 1952 contract to trim the number of Philadelphia Phillies to three—third baseman Willie Jones, relief hurler Jim Konstanty and infielder Connie Ryan. Hamner reportedly took a pay cut but said he expects a good year that will bring him an increase in 1953.

Vero Beach, Fla., March 1 (AP)—Brooklyn Dodger second baseman Jackie Robinson said today that the condition of the legs and not age or weight determine the length of a baseball career.

"What difference does it make what age you put on the roster," Robinson asked. "Numbers don't mean anything. It's how you feel that counts, I don't drink or smoke. Some fellows are as good or better, at 35, than a lot of others at 30. It's the legs that count."

LITTLESTOWN DEFEATED

Chico Vejar Beats Pruden In Fast Fight

New York, March 1 (AP)—Chico Vejar, the fighting freshman from N.Y.U., is going to spend more time with his books in the next couple of months.

After watching his 20-year-old welterweight prospect defeat experienced Fitz Pruden in a fast, action-packed ten rounder, Manager Steve Ellis said "Chico is going to take a long vacation."

Chico needs it. He's been one of the busiest fighters in the ring. His Madison Square Garden victory over the Paterson, N. J., veteran was his fourth of the year, his eighth straight triumph and his 40th win in 41 bouts. He started boxing as a pro on March 25, 1950. The swarthy, Stamford, Conn., youngster had to put on a strong finish to keep his latest winning streak intact. Pruden dropped him for six with a long left to the jaw in the first round and staggered the Connecticut kid several other times. But Chico roared back with flying fists each time after he was hurt and made the transplanted Canadian break ground.

Arcadia, Calif., March 1 (AP)—Beat Hill Prince and win the big money.

That was the consensus today as thousands of race fans flocked here to watch the 15th running of the classic $100,000 Santa Anita handicapped on an off track, slowed by rains of yesterday and last night.

Eighteen horses were entered in the mile and a quarter race, the grand climax each year of the winter racing season at Santa Anita, and 16 were taking dead aim at the heavy favorite, Hill Prince.

Littlestown FIRE ALARM AT WHITE STATION

Members of Alpha Fire company No. 1 responded to a call on Friday evening about 7:30 o'clock to the Texaco Service station on North Queen street, owned by Edward H. Brown and occupied by Ralph A. Ohler reported that two trucks answered the call. The Pontiac garage opposite the Texaco station, owned and operated by Mr. White, was burned to the ground in a $75,000 fire early last Sunday morning.

Benson, Guernsey, retired national director of rural scouting, as chairman of the county salvage committee to organize this county's participation in the nationwide program for salvaging waste materials for use in defense industries has been announced.

Benson's appointment was made by the Adams County Council of Defense in cooperation with the War Board of the Department of Agriculture. Mr. Benson is a member of that war board.

Kenneth Hull Directs Raid Alarm System: Kenneth P. Hull, Chambersburg street, has been named by the Adams County Council of Defense communications chief for the civilian defense set-up in the county. Mr. Hull will be assisted by C. A. Bixler, Hanover.

Riley-Black: Miss Josephine Margaret Black, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Black, of Bendersville, became the bride of Tech. Sgt. Charles Kendric Riley, son of Mrs. John P. Riley, Harrisburg, Saturday morning at 11 o'clock in the Bethlehem Lutheran church, Bendersville.

Capt. Oliver D. Coble, of Portsmouth, Va., performed the ceremony.

Miss Mary Black attended her sister as maid of honor and Clarence F. Riley was his brother's best man. Sergeant Riley is now serving in the United States Army with the Pennsylvania Detachment, State Selective Service staff, Harrisburg.

West Coast Is Shelled by Sub: Santa Barbara, Calif., Feb. 24 (AP)—An enemy submarine fired its reply to President Roosevelt's war address in the very middle of his chat last night—25 shells badly aimed toward an oil field and refinery near Goleta, seven miles north of here.

Witnesses said the shells, presumably of the shrapnel type, exploded large volumes of dirt from beaches and pastures, frightened horses—but hit only one well. The pumping plant and derrick of that well were damaged. However, no fires were started. No one was killed or injured.

It was the first attack upon United States soil in the war, although Japanese submarines off the Pacific coast and German submarines off the Atlantic coast have sunk some ships and damaged others.

Uninterrupted Production of War Materials Is Demanded: Washington, Feb. 24 (AP)—President Roosevelt admonished the American people last night to prepare themselves for further reverses on the war fronts, and even as he spoke an enemy submarine was raking a spot on the California coast with gunfire.

To speed the turn of the tide Mr. Roosevelt called for "uninterrupted production" to build up an overwhelming superiority of war supplies for the ultimate grand offensive of the United Nations.

SENDING OUT A BOOK

Only that one who has written a book, and had it published, can understand the thrill or expectation that is connected with such an event. Many of the great books of world were sent out with hardly a ripple of attention or appreciation following them.

Henry D. Thoreau's first book, "A Week on the Concord and Merrimack River," was published in 1849 and less than 300 copies were sold. The author gave away 75, and the rest of the original 1,000 copies were returned to him, which he stored, remarking: "I have now a library of nearly nine hundred volumes, over seven hundred of which I wrote myself."

Thoreau's only other book, published during his lifetime, was "Walden," now recognized as one of the great books of the world, yet there was recorded only these words in his journal of August 9th, 1854: "To Boston. 'Walden' published. Elder-berries. Waxwork yellowing." Thoreau died at the age of 45, not knowing he had written one of the greatest nature books ever written.

George Gissing, the English writer, also died before he reached his fiftieth birthday, leaving some thirty or so volumes behind, yet only two are scheduled for immortality—his "Lonan Sea" and his "Private Papers of Henry Ryecroft." Neither of these did he think outstanding, yet they are among the literature treasures of today. In life Gissing knew of heartaches and poverty as few authors ever have.

Michael Fairless (Margaret Fairless Barber) wrote a little book, called "The Roadmender." Shortly after she had finished it she died, never having lived to hear of its reception. It was first published in 1903 and I understand that half a million copies have been sold, and it has brought comfort and hope to millions I am sure. It is one of my prized books. How very wonderful to have written a book that keeps living year after year!

A great book is deathless. Montaigne, the French writer, once said: "If you want to know me, buy my book and read it." Great books are among the significant events of history.

FRIENDSHIP'S LIMITS

My father once told me, "A friend is a friend.
But never on friendship for favors depend;
And never, whatever may happen to you,
Ask for a favor a friend shouldn't do."

"There's much that a friend will be happy to do,
But still there are limits for him and for you,
And if you get in trouble, as some day you may,
Don't ask him to settle the fine you should pay."

"Never ask of a friend to do something for you
Which you know he has taken a vow not to do.
For that isn't friendship. Now heed what I say:
That's asking a good friend his oath to betray."

models to be introduced in the Henry J line this year. Already in dealer showrooms are the '52 Vagabond sport sedans, which feature a continental rear spare tire and wheel carriage.

A broad double-bar grille, with built-in contour parking lights and a bronze "K" medallion, highlights the front styling treatment. New splash shields and wrap-around bumpers are other features. There also is a new lance-type chrome and plastic hood ornament with "Corsair" appearing in chrome script on the fenders.

Tail lights have been moved from their former positions in the body below the trunk lid to the crown of the rear fenders, and are visible from the side as well as from the rear of the car. The former tail lamp positions are ornamented with circle "K" medallions which provide removal receptacles for custom installation of back-up lights, an accessory item.

A new convenience feature of the '52 models is a "pop-up" trunk lid which eliminates the need for a handle with which to raise the trunk cover. A turn of the key releases the lid to a convenient height for easy opening.

Interiors have been completely restyled with new door panel trim patterns and vinyl plastic fabrics in a selection of authentic Scotch tartan plaids. The upholstery is washable and stain resistant.

Many a little automobile ride for two has ended in misery for four.

Poor Driving For Winter

The point hasn't been given proper emphasis but many sharp observers have come to the conclusion that much of the congestion and utter confusion which has been following in the wake of every turn in this winter's weather has been aggravated by lack of driving skill. Admittedly there are such factors as greatly increased registrations and an upsurge in the tempo of business and social activities, but often the thing that snarls traffic is some driver's lack of skill, experience or just plain horse sense. Never before in all my years of driving have I found so many motorists trying to get by without using the commonly accepted safeguards.

Living on a hill I have had a perfect vantage point for observations.

Of nearly a hundred who tried to get up the hill one very icy morning not one who backed down tried the simple old trick of partially deflating the rear tires. Those with automatic transmissions were just plain foolish to try to get starting traction without chains. One driver with a powerful car made the grade but avoided a collision only because they let him have the road to himself, his car swinging from side to side in a power slide.

Time To Look Deeper

Failure of the starter, combined with abnormal wear on the flywheel ring gear, may be a tip-off that there may be a break in the crankcase arm to which the starter motor is bolted. As a result of the thrust set up by the cranking motor a bad case of misalignment between the pinion and ring gears results. There is not only more difficult cranking but also wear on the flywheel gear.

Not all the sludge that develops in engine is due primarily to dirt and dilution in the oil but to the particular oil's inability to handle the water which accumulates in the crankcase. Water solubility is an important virtue of some of the newer oils. They thus have the ability to prevent "mayonnaise" type of winter sludge, providing better oil circulation and safer lubrication.

When first using heavy duty oils in an engine that has been around for a few years it is important to drain as soon as the oil becomes dark in appearance. The oil is cleaning up the engine. Get rid of the dirt promptly even though the detergents in these new oils are designed to carry the solid contaminants in suspension.

Mechanic Joe Speaking

"With all the stir made by the hot rods it is interesting to note how few tricks many of the younger generation know. I've been noticing this during the winter. Several lads were congregated around one car stuck in the snow and not one had ever heard of standing on the rear bumper to rock the car up and down. I found two others trying to get sand under a spinning rear wheel. They looked rather started when I asked them why they didn't pour some sand on top of the tire so that its tread could carry it around to the point of contact with the ice."

One reason so many people throw the car into a braking skid when the road surface is slippery is simply because they have never learned how to use the brakes properly even for driving over normal road surfaces. Brakes never should be used steadily. Give the pedal a gentle pumping effect. This prevents the wheels from locking, gives maximum braking effect. It is also smart to form the habit of using the brakes at the most effective places.

Improvement continues in the condition of Mrs. Bessie Joseph, who has been a patient at the York hospital.

J. Harry Sinner, who was removed last week to the Harrisburg General hospital after suffering a heart attack, is reported much improved but is expected to remain at the hospital for a week or two more.

Mr. and Mrs. Harris G. Schlosser, who moved from here to Dillsburg R. 1, some months ago, visited friends here over the week-end.

Mrs. Paul E. Hunter, York, whose husband formerly resided here, is reported improving after suffering injuries in an auto crash near her parental home in Franklintown last week.

It is, for instance, easier on the brakes to slow down the car at the beginning of a decline rather than to let the car gain speed and then try to check it.

For Future Reference

You may never need to replace a coil spring but one way to simplify the job in an emergency is to slip two clamps over opposite sides of the coil. These will help keep it compressed.

That springy acting brake pedal may indicate air in the system, but don't overlook the simple fact that it may also be the direct result of the brake shoes not being properly adjusted.

It's an old trick to run a pipe from the crankcase to the intake to help draw off crankcase vapors, and thus lessen oil dilution, but the carburetor people warn that this may alter the mixture enough to cause trouble. A better plan is to install one of the special fan type crankcase ventilators. This helps drive off the fumes and vapors, and without interfering with the carburetor. Another plan, and one which any motorist can employ, is to run the car up a few hills whenever the opportunity presents. If the car is used too much for short inefficient runs these hills will help drive off the vapors through the crankcase ventilators.

Not What It Seems

Replacing a fuel pump may seem like simple work but often there are catches in it. One thing that may puzzle, and endanger, the owner who gets lured into such work is having gasoline continue to run out of the line when the pump is disconnected. This can be checked by having the front end of the car higher than the rear. But that is such a job for anyone with only one jack it's just another reason for not trying to match the modern service man's equipment. He probably will put the car in a lift of the type where one end of the car can be raised higher than the other.

Many have written about that giant flame which is New York and the eight million moths who flit about it but not until I read Agnes Rothery's penetrating "New York Today" did I realize what a city of wonder it really is. I think this is

New York, March 1 (AP) — Maybe there'll be a Dagmar show on NBC-TV this spring and maybe not. Only the other day it looked like things were all set. Now it's leaning the other way.

Together with her husband, the buxom blonde beauty has been working on a TV version of the Stage Door Canteen, a radio feature during the last world war. As projected, the program would be an hour of variety on the air with the canteen operating a total of four hours for benefit of invited servicemen guests. Some of the shows were to come from military camps, with one or two filmed overseas.

Even a spot had been picked, late Saturday night. The difficulties developed over Dagmar's salary. The principals would not reveal the figure, but they did admit Dagmar's asking price was different from the one NBC was talking about. There still is a possibility all may be ironed out.
